CELEBRATING TENTH ANNIVERSARY in their Westminster Showroom

The Experts at Fireworks Can Help You Find Cost Saving Solutions: Combat Your Heating Bills with Function and Style

In 1999 Carl Larkin with the help of his wife Susan moved his home based business Fireworks, Inc. a comprehensive hearth store to its present location in Westminster's historic Coca Cola Building. At that time the average electric bill was $87 a month. After the recent 72% rate increase, that figure has risen to more than $150.00 a month. As energy costs continue to skyrocket and fuel prices remain unpredictable, the Larkins know that consumers will be searching for more efficient ways to heat their homes; and these hearth professionals are armed with the products and the expertise to help their concerned customers.

The consumer will discover with the Larkin's guidance that style need not be sacrificed when selecting fuel efficient products. "Customers are amazed by our expansive showroom," reflects Susan Larkin. "We tried to create an environment that would allow our clients to visualize these fireplace products in their own home." In their recently renovated space, Fireworks Inc. utilizes all seven rooms to showcase their products. Complete ensembles are displayed as well as individual hearth accessory components. Shoppers can examine gas burning fire places in the Dark Room and enjoy the beauty of the new Marble Room where not only marble but granite, travertine, stone fireplaces and companion surrounds are featured.

This hearth boutique offers products that are designed to be efficient, reliable, easy to use and environmentally friendly. Product lines include inserts, freestanding stoves and fireplaces that utilize gas, wood, pellet and corn as their energy source. To complement these state-of-the-art appliances, a wide array of fireplace equipment and mantel designs are in stock to satisfy every taste from the economical to the extravagant. One can even find old fashion bellows among the wide variety of accessories.

Fireworks takes tremendous pride in their extensive, high quality product lines and their expertise in advising customers to attain the best, customized, energy-efficient fuel source while complementing each individual's décor. All Fireworks hearth appliances are professionally installed by their own certified technicians. All technicians are factory trained and certified by the National Fireplace Institute. Fireworks Inc. is licensed by the Maryland Home Improvement Commission and is a member of the Hearth, Patio and Barbecue Association.

For sixteen years the team at Fireworks Inc. has made customer service and expert product knowledge a priority. "You may find similar products in other hearth centers," avows Carl Larkin. "However those places can't compete with our expertise and our commitment to deliver customer satisfaction. Come in and see for yourself."

Susan and Carl Larkin, Master Hearth Professional, certifications in gas, wood burning and pellet stoves.
